

November 12, 2007
Fuji Electric Systems Co., Ltd.

Exhibition at MICONEX2007

Fuji Electric Systems (Shanghai) Co., Ltd. participated in the MICONEX 2007 in Shanghai exhibition on the four days of September 18th to the 21st.

This annual exhibit is the largest in China to spotlight the measurement and control industry. Therefore, the number of exhibiting companies reached as many as 580 this year. FES began actively participating in this event last year. This year FES show-cased its new products featuring exhibits of the Gas well remote monitoring systems, FCX-AIII Pressure transmitters, Ultrasonic flow meters, Gas analyzers, Temperature controllers and Paperless recorders.

Using large monitors, our booth introduced the FES group and our Instrumentation & Control products and update technologies to promote the Fuji Electric (Fe) brand. With well over 1,000 visitors to the booth, we believe that the response was quite favorable for future expanded sales of our Instrumentation & Control products in the Chinese market.

